Things to remember:

Pieced binding is continuous

Finished quilt top size before quilting & binding: 63-1/2"w X 73-1/2"h (lap size)
(includes extra 1/4" all around for seam allowance)

X-Cut = Cross Cut, as in cutting perpendicular to the stripes on the binding, see quilt top on pattern front...

LOG = Length of Grain

FC = Fussy Cut

Step Lively Quilt Instructions & Diagram

Getting Started

Read all instructions completely before beginning your project. There are subtle differences in color and patterns used that need to be carefully observed to end up with a quilt top that matches the color variation you are making. All seams are 1/4".

The term "Cross-Cut" in this pattern means that when you have stripes and/or strips sewn together, you should cut on a line perpendicular to the stripes or strips.

We strongly recommend that you use a design wall to help you assemble your blocks. This can be made very cheaply....for example, the fuzzy back of a vinyl table cloth. The best position for your design wall would be right in front of your sewing machine, so that you can easily get your bearings when assembling & double checking your piece order and direction before you actually sew them together. It's easy for even a more experienced quilter to rotate a block or two and end up with a lot of seams to be ripped out later. So go slow and check your work carefully before you sew!

1. Cut Strips & Blocks

Cut all of your pieces according to the Fabric Requirement Sheet. Group by color and piece size and set aside.

2. Get Your Pieces in Order

Using your design wall, line up your rows in their proper order. You have two types of rows (horizontal) that make up your quilt: The Odd Numbered Rows 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, 11, 13 & 15 are made up of cornerstones & horizontal sashing. The Even Rows 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14 are made up of vertical sashing & the 7-1/2" square blocks.

Sew the Odd Numbered Rows together first, and press the seam allowances to the right. Put your just sewn rows back into place on your design wall.

Now sew the Even Numbered Rows together, pressing your seam allowances to the left. Put these rows back onto the design wall. Double check your layout at this point, using your pattern front as a guide.

When you are convinced everything is in order, Sew Row 1 to Row 2, pinning at every corner and "nesting" your seams as you go, to reduce bulk. Now sew this double row unit to Row 3 and so on. When all of the rows are together, press all of your new horizontal seam allowances in one direction, and give your quilt top a good pressing.

Your quilt top should measure 63-1/2" w x 73-1/2" h, including the 1/4" seam allowance all around.

3. Finish the Quilt

Layer quilt back, batting and quilt top. Baste. Quilt as desired.

4. Bindings

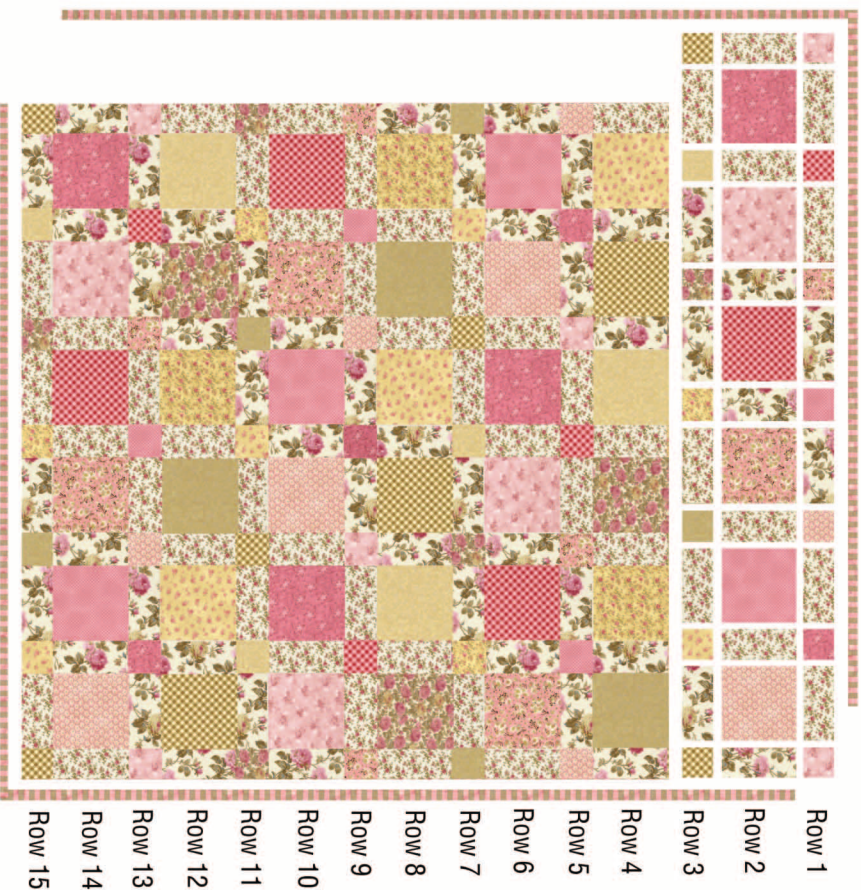

For X-Cut Striped Binding:

Make binding by cutting Length of Grain strips. Check your Fabric Requirement Sheet for the number of strips to be cut. Cross-Cut 3" wide strips so that stripes will be perpendicular to the long raw edge of the binding. (See quilt top photo). Sew strips together end to end and press in half lengthwise. Sew to the quilt top. Trim batting and turn binding to the back. Hand-sew to the back of quilt.

For Non Directional Binding

Check your Fabric Requirement Sheet for the number of strips to be cut. Make binding by cutting 3" x WOF strips. Sew strips together end to end and press in half lengthwise. Sew to the quilt top. Trim batting and turn binding to the back. Hand-sew to the back of quilt.

ENJOY!!!

Note: The large flower sashing (LH06030) is cut into horizontal and vertical strips, see your Fabric Requirement Sheet. This is done to enhance the appearance of the flowers and vine moving up, over and across the quilt...As if it were growing up a trellis in your back yard.
